

Greetings from the Department

It is a pleasure to present to you this electronic version of the 2012 Orthodontic Department newsletter. Thanks to the efforts of our residents, and especially Gillian Hay who is beginning her senior year, we were able to put together this collection of news, events, and achievements that we thought would be interesting to you and help keep you in touch with your orthodontic program. You should know that the residents, staff, and faculty continue to work hard to make and keep the program the best it can be. We all enjoy doing it and the success we have experienced is very gratifying. Your support, by being a member of the Orthodontic Foundation, coming to meetings, calling or sending emails, and donating to the MCV Orthodontic Endowment Fund, is very much appreciated. Please email me with any comments or suggestions you might have, or just to say hello, at sjindau@vcu.edu.

Congratulations 2012 Graduates!

Sheldon A. Bates was born and raised in South Carolina. He attended Wofford College, where he was inducted into Phi Beta Kappa and received a degree in Biology. He then attended the Medical University of South Carolina for dental school where he served as the student body president over the six health professional colleges that comprise the university. Upon receiving his DMD degree, he matriculated to Virginia Commonwealth University for his orthodontic residency. During residency, his research project was entitled "Mandibular Symphyseal Distraction Osteogenesis (MSDO): Association with Temporomandibular Dysfunction (TMD) Symptoms." Upon graduating from residency, Sheldon has decided to stay in Virginia and will be entering into private practice.

Christine Marie Farah was born in White Plains, New York. After moving to Virginia as a child, she went on to attend James Madison University where she received her Bachelor of Science in Health Sciences. Christine then moved to Richmond where she received her D.D.S. from Virginia Commonwealth University. After graduating from VCU's dental school, summa cum laude, she continued her education here as an orthodontic resident. Her master's thesis, "The fluoride recharging capability of orthodontic materials: an in-vitro study," examined the ability of certain sealants to remineralize white spot lesions. Upon graduation in 2012, Christine will be moving to Lawrenceville, New Jersey and joining an orthodontic practice in Newtown, Pennsylvania. During this exciting transition from residency to private practice, Christine is also looking forward to her upcoming wedding to Erik Stang in December 2012.

Dr. David Louis Jones was born in Martinsville, Virginia, where he graduated from Carlisle School in 2001. As a Wahoo at the University of Virginia, he earned his Bachelor of Arts in Psychology in 2005. He received his D.D.S. degree from the Virginia Commonwealth University School of Dentistry in 2010 as an OKU Honor graduate. He continued his education in Richmond, Virginia at the VCU Department of Orthodontics. Following a successful Master's defense titled: "Perceived social attributes of college students with ideal versus non-ideal dental esthetics judged by peers," he received a Certificate in Orthodontics along with a Master of Science in Dentistry. David is excited to start his orthodontic career in Richmond where he will enter private practice with Dr. Graham Gardner. David is also looking forward to marrying his long-term Wahoo girlfriend, Justine Lawson, in August 2012.

Michael Shoff is the second Shoff to graduate from VCU Orthodontics in recent history, with his uncle Rob graduating in 1996. Mike graduated Summa Cum Laude from UCLA School of Dentistry and was recognized with OKU honors. In his time at VCU, he started 151 new cases and did his Masters thesis on Class II correction with the Forsus Appliance. He presented this research at the Charles Schultz research symposium at the 2012 AAO meeting in Hawaii. Upon graduation, he will be buying a practice in Bellingham, Washington.
